Your company deserves to get the best value for your software dollar. A SysCompare Software Assurance Agreement is the key to ensuring your investment is protected and you receive the best support you can.

Software Assurance provides you with protection for your SysCompare software product licenses. Agreements are sold in one year increments and the initial cost (as well as renewal) are based on the current cost of the total number of licenses purchased or renewed. You may purchase Software Assurance at the time of your purchase or within 30 days of your purchase. After that time, you can only purchase Software Assurance with additional license purchases.

*Free upgrades for SysCompare Pro are available as part of Software Assurance. An active Software Assurance agreement must be in place to receive license upgrades. Expired or non-renewed agreements do not qualify. The agreement must be in place at the time a future version is released to the public as a production release.
